Sen. Hardiman to read to area students during Reading Month

LANSING – Sen. Bill Hardiman, R-Kentwood, will kick-off reading month by visiting area schools and reading to children. During March, the national reading month, Hardiman encourages reading among area students and stresses its importance.

“Reading Month is a good time to think about the importance of reading in young people’s lives and how necessary it is to succeed as an adult,” Hardiman said. “I really enjoy reading to the students. I tell them without reading, I certainly wouldn’t have been able to serve as a mayor or a state senator.”

The senator will read at the following schools on Friday, March 4.

- Meadowlawn Elementary, 4939 Burgis SE in Kentwood, 9:30am
- Glenwood Elementary, 912 Silverleaf SE in Kentwood, 10:30am and
- Ada Christian School, 6206 Ada Drive SE in Grand Rapids, 11:30am.

In addition, Senator Hardiman will be visiting several schools throughout March in the 29th Senate District. People can request Hardiman visit their child’s school and read by calling his office at 866-305-2129.
